The answers provided below are subjective in nature. Any logical answer is acceptable. Remember to be creative. Try to imagine the story beyond the pictures given.

Picture 1 : At the Beach

Going to the beach has been one of my favourite past time activities. I often feel exceptionally calm and happy when I go to the beach. I love the feel of the warm sand, the refreshing breeze, and the cool water. Listening to the sounds of the waves crashing, the seagulls squawking and children laughing merrily as they play on the beach has always been a plus too. You can do a lot of fun things at the beach. These are the reasons why I love going to the beach.

Picture 2 : Campsite

Everyone needs to experience going on a camping trip at least once in their lifetime. A camping trip is always fun if you go with your family or your close friends. You will be able to strengthen the bonds between one another as you pitch up your tent together or cook a delicious meal together. Teamwork is a requirement when you go camping. Sometimes, adults go camping alone in order to relax, unwind and clear their minds from the hustle bustle of the city.

Picture 3 : Traffic

Michael had been regretting the decision he made to sell his motorcycle and buy a brand-new car to get to work. Ever since he used his car, he would always get stuck in a terrible traffic congestion and arrive at work at least 30 minutes late. His boss had not been very happy with him. His son had also complained about arriving at school late and getting scolded by the teachers. Lately, Michael often found himself wondering if he should buy a second-hand motorcycle to solve his problem.

Picture 4 : In the Kitchen

My brother loves to cook! At our house, he is the chef while my mom acts as his mentor. I have been his loyal helper in the kitchen. My brother enjoys learning how to cook different types of dishes. He is an expert at chopping up the ingredients and cracking an egg with one hand. He favours cooking Indonesian food because they are incredibly spicy. All of our family members love eating spicy food. The more they make our tongues go numb, the more we enjoy eating them!

Picture 5 : Classroom

Adam hasn't been able to go to school for three weeks now. Everyone had to stay home due to the COVID-19 virus. Adam sometimes missed going to school to see his teachers and friends, but he also secretly likes having to stay at home because of his mother's delicious home-cooked meals. At home, Adam needs to learn to use whatever technology he has for his education. Learning outside of the classroom is a new skill that Adam and his friends need to grasp.
